Important Information About Procedures For Opening A New Account

To help the government fight the funding of terrorism and money laundering activities, Federal law requires all financial institutions to obtain, verify, and record information that on personal accounts identifies each person who opens an account. In addition, on legal entity accounts, we will require identification on beneficial owners and one individual that has significant managerial responsibility for the legal entity.

When you open an account we will ask for you name, address, date of birth, and other information that will allow us to identify you. For legal entity accounts, we are required to ask you for identifying information such as your name, date of birth, social security number and identification documents. We may also ask to see your driver's license or other identifying documents.

We proudly support all efforts to protect and maintain the security of our members and our country.
